

Hot Shoppe Robbed In Marlow Heights

Two gunmen locked up the manager and three employes of a Marlow Heights Hot Shoppes restaurant yesterday and escaped with an undetermined amount of money in a car stolen from one of the employes, police reported.

Prince George's County police said the holdup men were waiting inside the restaurant at 4287 Branch ave. when the manager, Paul Sager, arrived at 7 a.m.

The gunmen, police said, forced Sager to open the safe and took car keys from waitress Elsie Scales, then locked the employes in a trash room. The restaurant chain's regional office declined to reveal the amount of money taken.
